

2018 Construction Law Survival Seminar

September 27, 2018 9:30am-4:30pm

Jointly sponsored by Fullerton & Knowles, P.C., NACM South Atlantic, Independent Electrical Contractors, & National Association of Women in Construction

TOPICS COVERED:

Mechanic's Liens

- Time Limits, Notices and Claims to preserve rights in Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and D.C.

Public and Private Payment Bond Rights

- Federal Miller Act and State Little Miller Acts

Construction Contracts

- How to Write, Review and Revise contracts
- Conduit, Pay when Paid Clauses and Claims Procedures

Disadvantaged Business Enterprises

- How to structure agreements for contractors and suppliers for legitimate DBE participation, with the security necessary to obtain materials at the best pricing
- Avoiding Commercially Useful Function Investigations and Penalties
- Is it possible to be a DBE supplier?

Each seminar participant will receive continental breakfast, lunch, refreshments and the 2017 edition of the 700 page Construction Law Survival Manual. Cost of $89 per attendee. Check-in starts at 8:30 am. Seminar runs from 9:30 to 4:30

For more information and to register call Fullerton & Knowles, P.C. at (703) 818-2600 Ext 202 or visit the website <http://www.fullertonlaw.com/seminars.html> for more seminar information and to use the free 700 page internet Construction Law Survival Manual.